Workshops and Guest Speakers:

10:00 am – 11:00 am

The Professional Nanny: What do Parents Expect? Presenter: Ingrid Hale was educated at St John's Regional College and Swinburne Institute in Australia, and earned a Social Science Degree in Early Childhood Development. Ingrid began her career in childcare in 1992. She has worked with new mothers and their infants in hospital maternity wards as well as newborn nurseries. Ingrid has worked for the private sector as a nanny and newborn specialist in the U.K. for 4 years and now in the United States for the past 9 years. Ingrid became a placement consultant at Morningside Nannies in 2002 and served as the Manager of the Placement Division for three years. Ingrid continues her association with Morningside Nannies as a special project consultant and trainer and enjoys spending time with her two year old daughter, Jade.

11:00 am – 12:00 Noon

Self-Management and the Young Child: Presenter: W. Walker Peacock, Psy.D. Walker Peacock, Psy.D., is a postdoctoral resident at the Tarnow Center for Self-Management. He received his Doctorate of Psychology and Master of Arts degrees in Clinical Psychology from the California School of Professional Psychology. Dr. Peacock's professional experience has emphasized lifespan development, and has allowed him the opportunity to work with children, adolescents, and adults of diverse backgrounds. Prior to joining the Tarnow Center, Dr. Peacock was with the Colorado State University, where he worked with Division I athletes to develop individual and team performance enhancement plans. He now uses these same principles of Self-Management to help clients identify and overcome their barriers to academic, emotional, and professional success.

12:00 Noon – 1:00 pm Lunch

1:00 pm – 2:15 pm

Caring for Newborns and New Moms: Presenter: Kim Dillon, aka: "The Baby Keeper." Miss Kim is a native Houstonian and has over 16 years experience as a Newborn Care Specialist and nine years of training in the medical field. Her expertise is with preemies, newborns, technical support babies, and multiples. When Kim is not working she enjoys spending time at her daughter's home and having the opportunity to play with her three year old grandson.
